Fiction Author Spotlight: Jonathan Dee

This 2011 finalist for the Pulitzer Prize focuses most of his fiction on character-driven quests for professional success and deeper fulfillment while offsetting serious themes with satire and sympathetic characters. Dee's most popular tales include:

- Palladio
- The Privileges
- A Thousand Pardons

His latest novel, The Locals, is said to focus on “the dramas of twenty-first-century America — rising inequality, working class decline, a new authoritarianism — played out in the classic setting of some of our greatest novels: the small town.”

August 2017 Nonfiction Highlights...

Freud: The Making of an Illusion by Frederick Crews

“From the master of Freud debunkers, the book that definitively puts an end to the myth of psychoanalysis and its creator.”

Science in the Soul by Richard Dawkins

Dawkins “mounts a timely and passionate defense of science and clear thinking with this career-spanning collection of essays, including twenty pieces published in the United States for the first time.”

What Made Maddy Run by Kate Fagan

“This is the story of Maddy Holleran’s life, and her struggle with depression, which also reveals the mounting pressures young people, and college athletes in particular, face to be perfect, especially in an age of relentless connectivity and social media saturation.”

Truth Doesn't Have a Side by Dr. Bennet Omalu

“Omalu’s discovery of CTE [Chronic Traumatic Encephalopathy] in the brain of an American football player has become the catalyst of a blazing controversy across all contact sports.”

UFOs, Chemtrails, and Aliens by Donald Prothero, et al.

“While their approach is firmly based in science, Prothero and Callahan also share their personal experiences of Area 51, Roswell, and other legendary sites, creating a narrative that is sure to engross both skeptics and believers.”

Rabbit by Patricia Williams

“Rabbit is an unflinching memoir of cinematic scope and unexpected humor that offers a rare glimpse into the harrowing reality of life on America’s margins – a powerful true story of resilience, determination, and the transformative power of love.”
